explanation of cover--

The line at top coming from East, or right, goes to West--bringing in people to West Virginia

The mountains super-imposed on the outline of the State shows the roughness, or hardships, of their travel. As they usually would move on at the "crack of dawn," the sun is shining on the east side of the mountains and shadows are falling on the west side.

Arrows pointing to specific spots have arrowheads for points to represent the problems early settlers faced.

The road sign is self-explanatory.

Various types of printing represent different families, names, etc.

The line extending off the page to the left,
or West, represents those who migrated farther west.

Hi Everyone!

Look at the date of this letter - it's hard for me to believe that I have actually finished the next issue of the Journal at such an early date; however, due to our printer's helper (Lolita) spending sometime in Arizona "goofing off", it won't reach the printer before the middle of January. If all goes well, we'll get the issue out to you before the postage increase in the middle of February.

Someone slipped up last issue and failed to include pages 53 and 55 - the "Cousin Finder" and the "Day-Finder". You will note that I have begun this issue with page 53.

Thanks to many of you, this issue was a particularly easy one for me. I know that many of you have been anxiously awaiting the readings from Broad Run Cemetery. While the copy we are publishing was read in October 1938, it should be a big help to you. Perhaps someday one of our members will become enthused about re-reading this cemetery, using this list for a starting point. Let us know if you do.

It saddens me to report the death of two very special people. Raymond Westfall, father of Raydene Tcheira and the gentleman who welcomed us to the Alexander West site at the gathering, passed away in October. Dr. Earl Core, author of The Monongalia Story and other genealogical works, died in December. Our condolences to the families of both of these gentlemen.

I'm sure that you've each made New Year's resolutions; I'm no exception. Mine is: "Get it finished!" That includes getting the Journals out on time, completing the Morrison Cemetery book and making every effort to finish my Squires Family History.

The officers of HCPD are making plans for the next gathering and have held one executive meeting to date. Another is scheduled for February - weather permitting. An outline of the upcoming gathering will appear in next issue - along with reservation forms. Schedule September 27, 28, 29, 1985, on your calendar now. It promises to be an exciting event, as always.

HCPD has purchased a rebuilt Canon copier - the same one that was at the October meeting. The Executive committee decided that one was needed to help with the huge pile of correspondence and information sent out from this office almost daily. It has been a tremendous help to date.

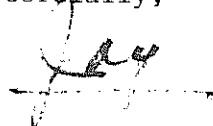

Response to each issue of the Journal is generally great! In an effort to help me continue to meet your needs, I appreciate constructive criticism and input from the members on what they want in the issue.

The officers are striving to compile a complete surname index of all members. Have you submitted a family group sheet since becoming a member? If not, please try to do it now. Just send it to Jim or I.

We are still awaiting a reply from the government on our non-profit status; with luck, we may have it before this issue is mailed and reduce our mailing costs.

Have a good winter!

Cordially,

Mrs. Joy L. Gilchrist
22406 SR 751
West Lafayette, OH 43845

Dear Mrs. Gilchrist:

Donna Hotaling has given me the information you sent, and I do think we are descended from the same ancestor, Alexander Sleeth. In fact, I seem to have two lines because of a second-cousin marriage. One line is:

Alexander Sleeth (immigrant)
Alexander Sleeth, Jr. (1750-1820)/Ann Smith
Alexander Sleeth, III (1785-1831)/Christina Keith (1788-)
John Hardman (1800-1848)/Millie Sleeth (1812-)
Asa Sleeth Hardman (1839-1920)/Mary E. H. Watts (1843-1883)
Thomas E. Hunter (1856-1923)/Ellen L. Hardman (1869-1939)
C. Albert Wells (1890-1929)/Edythe S. Hunter (1896-1977)
Frances Wells Doherty, b. 1914.

The other line, down to Millie, is:

Alexander Sleeth (immigrant)
John Hacker (1743-1824)/Margaret Sleeth (1747-1832)
Peter Hardman, Jr. (1776-1859)/Margaret Sleeth Hacker (1776-1815)
John Hardman (1800-1848)/Millie Sleeth (1812-)

I have relied heavily on Eloise Roberts' FOUR REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS for the Sleeth family genealogy. Actually, when I first started research on all of my lines that had moved to Florida in the 1800's, I was looking for Hardmans when I found the book one day at the DAR Library. Even though I couldn't tie in with any of the Sleeths in the book at the time, I was sure it was my family.

My ^{great} grandfather, Asa Sleeth Hardman (he changed the spelling), moved from Indiana to Florida in 1882 with his wife and two children, Herbert and Ellen. I have the Bible that belonged to his mother, Millie Sleeth Hardman. I have been trying to find out who Millie's parents were. Everything points to Alexander III and Christina Keith, but I have no proof. I have corresponded with Maurice Holmes, in Shelbyville, Indiana, who also thinks Alexander and Christina are the ones. He has information on all the other Sleeths in the area, so by process of elimination, we both have come to this conclusion.

I would like to join your organization and am sending ~~Betty Graybill~~ ^{James Strong} a check today. Thanks so much for writing and letting me know about this.

Best wishes,

Frances Doherty

Dear Joy:

The "Journal" is well done, enjoyable and historically informative. I'm looking forward to the rest of the article on the Hughes and hope to discover a clue that links me to the Hacker's Creek area Hughes.

I've the 1850 thru 1880 census for Highland township, Vermillion county, Indiana. Perhaps there are members searching for family who "went West". I'm willing to check my information to help others looking for missing ancestors. There are many "like" surnames for both the Hacker's Creek area and the Vermillion area. I'd appreciate an SASE with the information and requests for help.

I have another query to run. Thank you for running the other two.

Thank you and I appreciate the wonderful work you are doing.

Lois M. Johnsen

P.S. The new index is very helpful.

Dear Lois:

Your queries are appearing in the Query Section of this issue.

I think the index is great too. All the members have Lolita Guthrie to thank for a job well done. She devoted several weeks of her time to the effort.

Dear Joy:

Who were the par. of David D. Whetzel and his wife Margaret Hardman (b. 1814)? They were married in 1835.

James L. Sims

Charleston, WV 25304

Dear Jim:

According to Minnie McWhorter's notebooks in the West Virginia Collection at Morgantown, Margaret's parents were Henry Hardman (1781-1840) and his second wife Julianna Rinehart whom Henry m. 14 Apr 1815 in Lewis County with John Mitchell performing the ceremony. However, this date does not "jive" with the birthdate for Margaret of 14 Nov 1813. Perhaps some of our members will have your answer.

Henry's first wife, Elizabeth Hacker d. in 1811. I wonder if her death occurred in childbirth when their son John D. Hardman was born.

I think you'll find the Hardman articles that are appearing in this volume of interest.

Genealogist's Prayer

O Lord,
since your memory is so much greater than mine help me to successfully locate all the names and dates that would help fill up all those empty spaces.

never let me be disgraced
by what I find, both good or ill, until I have grown to understand how full human were these ancestors of mine,
how one they are with me.
let me celebrate their faults
as well as exalt in their achievements, pride myself in their efforts of courage and adventure.

place my hands on the right volumes with which to do my research;
let me work with care and diligence,
aware that what I do is a labor of love,
to be shared and passed on to future generations.

help me to do what I do now,
and never worry about what I can't find, let me sleep night free from searching in my dream for so-in-so,
I'll be able to question them all personally;
I'll know it all first hand.

let what I compile be my gift to you,
my talents multiplied
may it bring smiles and compassion to my family (now and yet to come),
and to all, here, writing at my side.

MISPLACED LETTER

The Editor's apologies to Mrs. Mary Luikart Ellis of 5559 Auburn Road, Apt. A., Jacksonville, Florida 32207. I recently found a letter from her dated 16 Aug 1983 which had been misfiled; upon checking I found that her query had not been published.

Mrs. Ellis is researching the Luikart family in order to compile a family history. Her g.g. grandfather lived in Mason, W. Va., and his brother in the Red House, W. Va. area. They were George and John Luikart. She also has a John Luikart family living in the Pickens, W. Va., area.

Mrs. Ellis would appreciate any help anyone could give her on this family.

SOME EARLY LEWIS COUNTY MARRIAGES
Submitted by Robert B. Smith

NEW AND NOT-SO-NEW
HACKER DISCOVERIES

Some new discoveries and some new-to-me discoveries shed some interesting light on the Hacker ancestors, William and Ann Turner Dillon Hacker. In Volume I, Issue 2, p. 7, HCJ, the arrival in America, meeting and marriage of these two grandparents was discussed and the claim by William Hacker, author of THE HACKER RECORD, that the meeting and marriage occurred in 1725 was questioned.

John Sheldon Hacker of Tyler, Texas, and Franklin Walters of Port Charlotte, Florida, have been working on this issue for quite some time. Here is what they have found:

William Hacker (1690-1772), father of John, William, Elizabeth, Nancy Ann and Mary "Polly", was apparently transported to America in 1730 after being found guilty of stealing 4 cocks, 17 hens, 5 drakes and 5 ducks belonging to Christopher Tilson. A letter to J. Sheldon Hacker from the Corporation of London, Records Office, reprinted on the next page explains the details of the story.

On 28 October 1730 he was transported to America on the ship "Forward" captained by George Buckeridge and arrived at "Potomack, Va." (now Maryland) in January 1731 where he was issued a landing certificate. There were 155 prisoners on board all of whom were sold to the highest bidder for seven years servitude. This information, found in BONDED PASSENGERS TO AMERICA* by Peter Wilson Coldham, corresponds with the data from the Corporation of London and was discovered by Franklin Walters.

Potomack, Md., is just across the river from Stafford County, Virginia, where William Hacker m. Anne Turner Dillon in 1738, 7 years after he landed. He had apparently completed his servitude and was able to marry.

In the same work, Volume III, Anne Turner was found as sentenced to be transported to Virginia from Middlesex, England, in December 1727, 3 years before the arrival of William. She sailed on the same ship "Forward" but the ship at that time was under the command of William Loney. Perhaps the fact that they came to America on the same ship, although at different times, led to the story that has come down through the generations that they met on board ship. It is probable that Anne, whose 7 years servitude was over three years before William's, married Dillon who may have died and left her a widow.

I am fully aware that the story has come down through various branches of the family that William was a sailor boy and may have come to America under a different name. It doesn't seem probable to this author that this story is true. It seems more likely that the sailor boy story was invented to protect the children and grandchildren.

JRS/DF

6th March 1972.

Dear Sir,

Thank you for your letter of 29th February. The certificate of landing for the ship 'Forward' of London (Misc.Mss. 57.8 No.35) gives no details additional to those already supplied by Mrs. Goodwin. It is dated 16 January 1730/31 and signed by Henry Moryson, Collector, and Thomas Lee, Naval Officer. The port is given as South Potomack, Virginia, the master as George Buckeridge, and William Hacker is named as one of the convicted felons transported. No one else of that surname appears on the list and no mention is made of bondage.

The details of Hacker's trial at the Old Bailey may interest you and I have taken the following notes from the printed proceedings of the Old Bailey Sessions in the Guildhall Library. He appeared at the April Sessions of 1730 accused of stealing 4 cocks, 17 hens, 5 drakes and 5 ducks belonging to Christopher Tilson. John Nicholson deposed that Hacker, William Field and himself were drinking at Teddington (Co. Middlesex) on 5 April and then went and stole the fowls about 11 p.m. They took them to Brentford where they put them in a stable and got a man named Guy Moore to sell them. Hacker denied this and alleged that Nicholson had asked him to fetch some fowls which he had bought, but the jury found him guilty and sentenced him to transportation. He is described in the proceedings as 'William Hacker of Hampton Court'.

The original records of the trial are likely to be deposited in the Greater London Record Office (Middlesex Records), 1 Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Dartmouth Street, London, S.W.1. and you may wish to make further enquiries there. I may say, however, that the official records rarely yield more information than the printed proceedings, and often less.

I hope you find the above notes of interest.

Yours faithfully,

(Miss) Betty R. Masters

Deputy Keeper of the Records.

Mr. J. Sheldon Hacker, 3023 Brookside Drive,
Tulsa

As descendants each of us should remember that William and Anne were among the hundreds of thousands who were transported for often very petty reasons and that these people had the strength and stamina that survived the wilderness that was West Virginia and the sloppy bogs of Kaskaskia and made us what we are today.

Another "find" in recent times was a picture of John and Mary Ann Hacker Helmick which was taken about 1860. Mary Ann was b. 18 July 1793 in the John Hacker blockhouse on Hacker's Creek in Lewis County. Her parents, John and Margaret Sleeth Hacker, had lost their eldest daughter, also named Mary Ann, to the Indians in 1787 and decided to name their new baby in her elder sister's honor and for Margaret's mother, Mary Ann Wallace Sleeth.

John and Mary Ann (Hacker) Helmick

Mary Ann m. John Helmick, s/o Jacob and Barbara Helmick, on 28 Aug 1811 in Harrison County, (W) Va. John Helmick was a widower with one child. John's first wife was Joan Ryan whom he had wed in 1805.

The photo, taken from a tintype, came from John Wesley Helmick of Orlando, Florida, via Franklin Walters and Mary Southall.

To my knowledge, this is the only known picture of one of John Hacker's children.

According to William Hacker's "Hacker Records", Margaret Sleeth Hacker was a small woman - built much like Mary Ann. Wouldn't it be nice to know if Mary Ann looked like her mother?

Discussion of Mary Ann Hacker Helmick brings up another problem concerning this family. The Editor recently received a letter stating that Mary Ann Hacker Helmick was married to Flesher either before or after her marriage to John. Considering that Mary Ann was only 18 years of age when she m. John Helmick and considering the fact that Mary Ann outlived John by eighteen years, the marriage to Flesher would have to have been a second one. Does anyone have any proof of this marriage?

The children of John and Mary Ann (Hacker) Helmick were:

1. James - never married.
2. Joanna, b. 7 Sept 1812, d. 24 Nov 1894;
m. Samuel Bonnett in 1840
3. Hannah, b. 1814, m. John Simons in 1849
4. Jacob B., b. 1816, m. Delila Hinkle in 1846
5. John, b. Dec 1819, m. Cassie Allen in 1842
6. Alexander S., m. Ella Davis
7. Ira Ellis, b. 4 Mar 1824, d. 29 Apr 1915;
m. Cristine Wymer in 1849
8. David S., b. Apr 1826, m. Elizabeth Kelley in 1865
9. Margaret H. b. 1828, m. John Smith in 1855
10. Barbara, b. 1830 m. _____ Armisted
11. Elizabeth - never married

RADCLIFF/RATLIFF FAMILY
ARTICLE

In one of the back issues of HCJ, the Editor promised an article on the Radcliff/Ratliff family. Despite countless hours of research and study of family material supplied by some of the family descendants, at this time we still cannot conclusively establish the family lines. It is hoped that anyone with information that would help will contact the Editor or Dennis Rodgers, 90 John Drive, Mt. Zion, IL 62549.

THE HUGHES FAMILY - Conclusion
COLLATERAL HUGHES FAMILIES

William and Sudna Hughes

GENERATION:

4th 2 ~~iii~~ THOMAS HUGHES, second son of William Hughes, as mentioned in his will, was born 1720-27. He was killed by Indians near Hacker's Creek, Virginia, May 4, 1778. It is believed that he was twice married; (1) Mary Baker, (2) Susannah ---.

Thomas went with his father and brothers into the Cacapon valley, Frederick County, Virginia, and purchased land from Lord Fairfax, surveyed by George Washington. His tract of 419 acres is described as "near Lick Branch of the Great Cacapon," under date November 18, 1752. We find the transfer of this land in two parts:

"Hughes, Thomas (W. Susannah) to Henry Fry, Feb. 12, 1759. 200 acres on Great Cacapon. Hampshire County Records, Feb. 13, 1759.

"Hughes, Thomas (W. Susannah) to Henry Fry, June 8, 1761. 219 acres on Great Cacapon. Hampshire County records, Dec. 8, 1761."

Thomas Hughes appeared in the Monongalia Settlement (now Harrison County, West Virginia) with his family, about 1755. He assigned the rights and benefits of his improved land to Edmund West, who built the famous West's Fort. A certificate was granted, which reads "Edmund West, assignee to Thomas Hughes, Sr. for 400 acres on Sycamore Lick Run opposite Thomas Hughes, Jr.'s land, to include his settlement made in 1773, . . ." He then settled on Hacker's Creek, about 1774.

Thomas's children have been listed variously as being from seven to fourteen in number. We have the ten that are verified, by record and from early descendants.¹

5th ii SARAH HUGHES, second child of Thomas Hughes, was born about 1749. She married Captain Michael Stump, Jr., an officer in the Revolutionary War. They are the ancestors of Paul Hardman, previously mentioned, as the researcher and writer of the manuscript, "Ancestry of Jesse Hughes, the Border Scout." We have no record of their children.

5th + iii JESSE HUGHES, the famous border scout and Indian-fighter, was born about 1751, and died in 1829 on Turkey Run, Jackson County, Virginia. He married Grace Tanner in 1771-72, the same year he settled on Hacker's Creek, Harrison County. She died January 1842 in Roane County, Virginia.

Jesse Hughes was said to be "one of the most famous scouts and Indian fighters of all the west." (West of the Virginia mountains) He opened up and tamed the mountain region for the pioneers.

In the fall of 1797, he moved to the Wabash; thence to eastern Kentucky; and from there back to western Virginia, where he moved about in his mountains before he finally settled in Jackson County.

Susan Turner Hughes, widow of a descendant of Jesse Hughes, remembered "Old Jesse," and, in 1902, made this description of the cruel and blood-thirsty man, which coincides with what is known to be true. "Old Jesse had eyes like a painter (panther) and could see at night almost as well as one. He could hear the slightest noise made in the forest at a great distance . . . He knew the ways of every animal and bird in the woods, and was familiar with the sounds and cries made by them. He could go through the woods, walking or running, without making any noise . . . He was as stealthy and noiseless as a painter, and could creep up on a deer without causing it any fright.

GENERATION:

"He could outrun any Indian that ever prowled in the forest. . . He was as savage as a wolf, and he liked to kill an Indian better than eat his dinner."

Not only did Jesse engage in Indian killings with an "insatiate passion for Indian blood," which included women and little children, but he was a leader in the terrible massacre of the Bulltown Indians. For these deeds he was shunned and ostracized by many decent people—but he and his brothers saved many forts and homes, and countless pioneer lives. He was a man of his time, and he lived to see the country made safe for the white man. By then he was a sad and embittered old man, and, like Alexander, wept because there were no more worlds to conquer.

Jesse Hughes and Grace Tanner had ten children:

- 6th i Martha, b. Dec. 1773, d. Dec. 1834. m. 1792, Jacob Bonnett. On the slab which marks her grave in the old Harmony Church Cemetery, on Hacker's Creek near Jane Low, is inscribed:
"Martha, daughter of Jesse Hughes / Born Dec. 1773 / Made prisoner by the Indians Dec. 1787 / Married Jacob Bonnett, 1792 / Died Dec. 1834 / Aged 61 years." Children:
- 7th i Delilah Bonnett. m. Abram Hess;
ii Martha Bonnett;
iii Elizabeth Bonnett. m. Fleming Sprouse;
iv Lucinda Bonnett. m. Jesse Butcher;
v Samuel Bonnett;
vi Gracie Bonnett;
- 6th ii Rachel. m. William Cottrell;
iii Sudna. m. Elijah Runner;
iv Elizabeth. m. James Stanley;
v Massie, b. 1786-7, d. May 30, 1883. m. Uriah Gandee. They had twelve children—ten lived to maturity:
- 7th i Sarah Gandee; vii Lucinda Gandee;
ii Jesse Gandee; viii Samuel Gandee, b. Feb. 24, 1824;
iii William Gandee; ix Mary, d. aged 9;
iv George Gandee; x Unnamed child;
v Cynthia Gandee; xi Martha Gandee
vi Grace Gandee; xii James Stanley Gandee, b. July 27, 1832.⁴
- 6th vi Nancy Agnes. m. George W. Henshaw; vii Louraney (or Lucinda). m. Uriah Sayre;
viii Thomas;
ix William. m. — Staats;
x Jesse, Jr. m. 1800, Susannah Mock.
- 5th iv THOMAS HUGHES, JR., was born about 1754 and died October 1837 in Jackson County, Virginia. He married Mary —, who died in August of that same year. In 1775 he settled on the West Fork. Thomas was an active scout and Indian fighter, along with his famous father and brothers, Jesse and Elias, during the entire border wars. He had one known child:
- 6th i Thomas Hughes, III, b. 1783. m. Ann Moore and was living in 1854.

⁴ Mrs. Burns, the Thomas Hughes Chart.

GENERATION:

5th v ELIAS HUGHES (Ellis), one of the famous border scout sons of Thomas, was born about 1757 in what is now Hardy County, West Virginia. He died December 22, 1844, near Utica, Ohio. He married Jane Sleeth, who died in 1827. In pioneer records he is often called "Ellis."

Elias was a scout and Indian fighter, second only to his brother Jesse. He fought in the Battle of Pt. Pleasant, legally, the first battle of the Revolution, and lived to be next to the last survivor of that battle.

In 1797 he moved to the Muskingham in Ohio, and the next year he went to Licking County, Ohio. In the War of 1812 he was Captain of the Militia and was commissioned Lieutenant in Colonel Rennick's Regiment of Mounted Ohio Volunteers.

Elias Hughes and Jane Sleeth had fourteen children. Records in the Treasury Department show that the pension due Elias Hughes at the time of his death in 1844, was paid to seven of his children: Susannah, Margaret, Sarah, John, Elias, Jonathan, and Sudna.

⁶ Mrs. Burns, Chart.

GENERATION:

5th viii CHARLES HUGHES;

ix DEBORAH HUGHES, b. 1767. m. Jan. 7, 1795, William Bibbee;

+ x JOB HUGHES, b. 1770. m. Aug. 29, 1791, Mary (Polly) Hamm (Harn or Horn). Said to have had 15 children—four boys and eleven girls. Only one is shown on Mrs. Burns's chart:

6th i Job Hughes, Jr. m. Diana King. Nine children:

- 7th

 - vii Diana. m. D.V. Flowers;
 - viii Elizabeth. m. Emery Harris;
 - ix Abijah. m. Mattie Flowers.

Thomas Hughes is said, by some researchers, to have had three other children, whom we cannot justify by our research, as belonging to this family. They are:

- i Jonathan, the controversial Revolutionary War soldier, who married Sarah Abigail Jackson. We believe him to be the son of Hugh.
- ii William. m. (1) Edith Sutton, (2) Dora Frye. Unplaced.
- iii Ann. m. 1795, Joseph Bibbee, brother to William, who married Deborah. The Bibbee brothers are thought to have married cousins

5th 3 iii JAMES HUGHES was named second child of Hugh and Susannah Hughes, and brother to Jonathan. His will, dated January 3, 1802, was probated in Hardy County, Virginia, July 14, 1802. He mentioned his wife, Mary, and twelve sons and daughters in this order:

- i Aaron;
- ii Jonathan. m. Mary — ;
- iii John;
- iv Levy. m. Elizabeth — ;
- v William;
- vi Isaac;
- vii Rebecca. m. David Ogden;
- viii Susannah. m. John Stewart;
- ix Elizabeth. m. John Sly;
- x Mary;
- xi Rachel;
- xii Leah.

AT LAST---NEWS CONCERNING OUR FAMILY HISTORY BOOK

This notice is being sent primarily to persons I have contacted in the past years for data on their branch. Most are already listed in the book as a contributor of data, old pictures, etc.. I am sure that some of my friends, correspondants, or relatives would like to learn the status of the book that I have been "talking about" and gathering data on for 50 years ~~this~~ month June '84

During the last couple of years, I have worked my way through copies of original records and a ~~filling~~ cabinet full of notes, and have prepared a manuscript that I am now proof reading. When this is completed, I will talk to some publishers and try to arrange for publication. I know one of the first questions they will ask will be--how many copies do you want printed? A well-considered decision here is most important for many reasons, and the answer has a drastic effect on the cost. This then is the reason for taking a simple poll to get an approximate number required.

At this point I will give you a very brief outline of what I have accomplished to date. The book starts out basically with the POWELL family in Virginia, circa, 1630 and I have proven the lineal descent from that period down to 1984, about 13 generations or over 350 years of our nation's history.

Original public records were consulted always and many copies were placed in the book with Bible records, wills, charts and pictures included. Family connections have been proven and support documents referenced.

Although the book starts out as a POWELL history, early in the 1800s several POWELLS marry into the HARDMAN family. The entire HARDMAN family was researched back as far as possible---in this case to the 1725 period, so the book contains the same type of detailed researched material as does the POWELL line. The results are that there are probably several thousand HARDMANS and their descendants listed from 1725 to 1984 with proven lineage. In addition to this many hundreds of the HARDMANS may trace their blood lines back through the POWELL line as a result of the intermarriages.

This same procedure is followed on other lines when possible; for example, the POOL family. There are approximately 400 known POOL descendants in 1984 who may trace their blood line back through the POWELL line to 1630 in Virginia.

Another simple example - one of my grandchildren could turn to proven references in the book and show descent from the 1630 period in Isle of Wight County, Virginia from many families in addition to the POWELLS. From this early period until the end of the Revolutionary War, his blood line may be traced back in the book to at least these lines: HEARN, MURRELL, WATERS, JOYNER, GARNER, POPE, HOOKEY, KLEYSS, SHOEMAKER, LANSINGER, SEIGFRIED, WINGARD, ALEXANDER, GOODE, (CHRISTOPHER) CLARK, BIBB, TYRRELL, CHANDLER, HARDMAN and KEY.

Basically the manuscript is organized chronologically from 1630 - 1984. The assembled manuscript is hand-scribed and now overfills 8 large 3"x8-1/2"x11" note books with approximately 2800 written pages, supported by these additional pages:

- x 1. Approximately 50 special family charts spaced throughout the book to ensure easy reference and identification of family members.
- x 2. Approximately 90 full page copies of Bible records.

3. Approximately 230 pages of photos of special interest material - from newspaper clippings to public documents, maps, Rev. War items, etc..
4. Approximately 50 pages of photos of wills and old letters written over 100 years ago.
5. Over 500 pictures of persons discussed in the book - a number were born in the 1790 or early 1800 period.
6. Persons interested in Patriotic Societies, such as COLONIAL DAMES, COLONIAL DAUGHTERS OF THE 17th CENTURY or D.A.R., etc., will find data and proof to qualify for membership, based on records of a number of early ancestors.

Plans are to have a hard back book with 8-1/2"x11" pages, good grade of paper, properly indexed, hopefully in one volume. It is not feasible to guess what price to expect. They will be sold at cost, as I have no plans to make any money on the project. Books with much less in the way of pictures and multiple lines are commonly listed in the range of $40.00.

As pointed out earlier, the number printed will have a great bearing on the cost. Also it is not likely that there will be a second printing, so those indicating interest will be considered first in filling any orders. It is also understood that if a person indicates intention to purchase at this point - there is nothing binding. The purpose is to get an idea of what to expect and to update contacts and addresses.

BAILEY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located north of Jane Lew, W. Va., on what was the Minter Bailey farm. The property is now owned by James Martin. The cemetery is located to the north of the large barn about 100 feet. There is a walled enclosure of stones about three feet high. Two tombstones are built as part of the wall; a third was laying atop the wall and a fourth appeared to be in its original position about 3 feet from the wall on the south side. The cemetery was cleaned by the Boy Scouts from Jane Lew in the summer of 1984 according to Mr. Martin. Coleus were planted around the outer edge. Read by Charles and Joy Gilchrist, 2 September 1984.

Stone outside of wall

"In memory of George Basable, Departed This Life Nov 18, 1818. Now under this cold grassy mound/His body safely rests/And saved his happy soul is found/On the Redeemers right side."

Built as part of the wall

"William Bailey, son of M. and N. Bailey, 1796-1849. His two wives Hannah Edmonds 1797-1822/Frances Mundell 1798-1854. Put up by H. Bailey 1906"

"E. B. Bailey Born June 19, 1763, Died Nov 12, 1833
1. Bailey Died Spt 1827 ^{Age} 60 ys. Rebuilt by Isaac Jackson 1906"*

Lying on wall

"In memory of Eli Bailey, Born June _____, 1750, Died Sept _____ 18__9."

*E. Bailey was Minter Bailey. N. Bailey was Ann "Nancy" Norris, his wife.

According to A CHRONOLOGY OF THE STALNAKER FAMILY IN AMERICA, researched and compiled by Cecil E. Stalnaker and edited by Martin L. Yokum (Baltimore - 1982), John Whitman Stalnaker, first husband of Minter's and Nancy's daughter Eunice, is also buried in this cemetery. His birthdate is given as 1779 and his death date as 1821.

Mr. Martin told us that there were still traces of the Stalnaker settlement which was across the creek. There were five or six houses in this settlement. Ruth Bell who lives next door to the Martins and who is a descendant of the Stalnakers told us that there used to be a ford across the creek at this place before the Lightburn Road was built. People would ford the creek here and go over the hill to Lightburn.

MINOR C. BAILEY
OBITUARY

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The May meeting of the Baptist Missionary society was held in the church on Monday, May 28, with the president, Mrs. George Woodford, in charge.

Mrs. O. Ramsburg led the devotionals, which were followed by the regular business session. A short program on "Chinese Medical Missionaries" was given and the meeting was adjourned until June 25th.

Obituary

Minor C. Bailey

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the Broad Run Baptist church. The Rev. J. C. Munser, pastor of the Glenville church of that denomination was in charge of the rites. He was assisted by the pastor the Rev. Earl Wymer and the Rev. Worthy Flesher of Weston. Burial was made in the Broad Run cemetery.

Mr. Bailey, 65, prominent farmer of the Broad Run community and Thursday, May 31, following a three months' illness of complications. His wife the former Miss Clara Simons died three years ago.

Surviving relatives include three daughters, Mrs. J. R. Mitcheell of Clarksburg, Mrs. H. B. Goldsmith of Washington, Pa., and Mrs. J. A. McDonald of McKeesport, Pa.

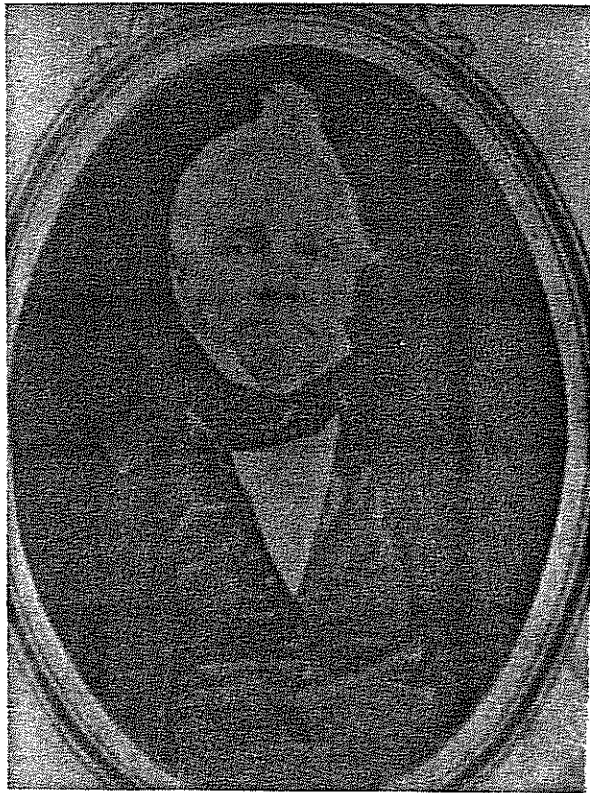

According to historical records, it was the Baileys, cousins of Minor Bailey, who came from Virginia in 1818 and brought about the removal of the Broad Run church to its present location. It took its name after the old Broad Run church in Virginia.

Minor Bailey was a descendant of John and William Bailey natives of that community and pioneers in the Broad Run church which was located at the present site in 1818.

He was born on April 7, 1849 and lived and died on the same farm. He was reared a farmer but also learned the carpenter trade and worked at it.

MIGRATIONS, MASSACRES & SUCH
(The Peter Hardman Family)
Part II

Before we continue with the story of the Peter Hardman family, the Editor must make a correction and an apology. In Volume II, Issue 2, p. 56, HCJ, it was noted that John Hardman, not Peter, accompanied John Waggoner to the Scioto to visit Peter Waggoner. On page 39 of the last issue, it was stated, in error, as being Peter Hardman. The reference as to the identity of the two men is contained in Ref. ME 59 - Hardman Scrapbook at the Historical Society of Philadelphia, Pa. The information came from Blanche Maybury, w/o Dr. Edwin Carson of California. Blanche was the d/o Hiram Maybury and Josephine Hardman, gd/o Jacob Wolf Hardman and Marice Rodman, ggd/o Rev. John Hardman and Elizabeth Waggoner, and the gggd/o Peter and Charlotte Lazier Hardman.

Thanks, Cris Wagoner, for pointing out the error.

The identity of Amelia Sleeth, w/o John Hardman, (p. 48, Vol. III, Issue 1, HCJ) has become known in a rather unusual way. I was reorganizing the Scotch-Irish Seminar for the Coshocton Chapter, O.G.S., which had been scheduled for last fall but was cancelled due to problems obtaining a main speaker. Donna Hotaling, the foremost authority on Scotch-Irish history and research, of Vienna, Va., had agreed to speak sometime in the spring. I was speaking with her on the phone and explained my personal reasons for being interested in Scotch-Irish history and consequently mentioned the Sleeth name. Donna said that one of her close friends was researching the Sleeth family also. We started comparing notes and I became fairly certain that Donna's friend was one of my cousins with some roots on Hacker's Creek. I wrote to Donna and sent information about the organization. As it turned out, Donna's friend, Frances Doherty, had more than just a few roots on Hacker's Creek and we were cousins through different lines. Frances' letter, reprinted on p. 54, shows Amelia's parents as being Alexander Sleeth (1785-1831) and Christina Keith (1788-????).

Now, on with the story of Peter and Charlotte (Lazier/Lasier) Hardman:

5. Jonathan Hardman, b. 25 Jan 1803 in Harrison Co., Va.; d. 31 Jul 1876 in London, Madison County, Ohio; m. 16 Dec 1824 in Clark County, Ohio, to Mary Arbogast, d/o Peter and Sarah. Mary was born in Clark County. Jonathan, like his father, his brothers and some of his uncles and cousins, was a Methodist Episcopal minister. He was the father of nine children:

- a. Sarah Hardman, d. 1863
- b. Peter Hardman, m. Lucia Lauman of Chillicothe, Ohio. Peter served in the Civil War and was brought home from Harper's Ferry, Virginia, to die.

c. Otho Hardman, m. Eliza Weaver from Madison County, Ohio; father of 5 children.

d. William Hardman, b. 28 Feb 1831 in Clark County, Ohio; m. 29 Oct 1856 Margaret Ellen Birely.

"William Hardman was reared on the home farm, and attended the country school when he could spare the time. He assisted his brothers in clearing and cultivating the farm and later, becoming interested in growing sheep, he went into partnership with J.R. Ware, of Mechanicsburg, following this business until 1863, when he became a member of the 167 Reg., Ohio Voluntary Inf., for service in the Civil War. He was with his company in camp at Urbana, when he received a note from his partner which asked him to turn over his gun to the messenger, a man by the name of Thos. Cartmell, as the latter was willing to take his place, and was an unmarried man. Mr. Ware knew that Mr. Hardman's absence from the sheep farm would be a sad loss to their business, and as soon as Mr. Hardman recognized the fact, he made arrangements by which he could turn over to Mr. Cartmell his equipments, after which he returned home.

"On Oct., 29, 1856, Wm. Hardman was married to Margaret Ellen Bireley, who was born March 11, 1838 in Maryland, and is a daughter of Lewis and Sarah Birely. They came to Clark Co., Ohio in 1839, and for a short time in Springfield Township, and in 1840 came to Pleasant Township, where they lived during the remainder of their lives."

Paragraph on Bireley genealogy omitted.

"Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Hardman have 4 children. . . ."

"On Oct. 29, 1906, Mr. & Mrs. Hardman enjoyed the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary and it was an occasion that will long be remembered by all who were premitted to participate in it. Friends and relatives were in attendance from Madison, Clark and Champaign Counties and also from Columbus, numbering 4 children and 7 grandchildren, and 88 other relatives and near friends, many of whom had never before found an opportunity of becoming acquainted. With their expressions of interest, good will and affection, they each brought an appropriate gift. The banquet which served 95 guests, was probably the most elaborate ever served in Pleasant Township. Two gifts most highly prized an admirable picture of Mr. & Mrs. Hardman, the first taken 50 years before this anniversary, and the 2nd about this period.

"Altho Mr. Hardman has reached his 77th birthday, he still takes an active interest in his farm, and looks carefully after his valuable Delaine Sheep. In politics Mr. Hardman is a Republican, and was reared in the faith of the Methodist Episcopal Church, but his religious views are now in accordance with those of the Universalist Church."³¹

1) Minor Hardman, m. 1886 Harriet Runyan, d/o Thos. W. & Phoebe Runyan. Minor and Harriet were the parents of three children: Charles Omer, b. 19 Nov 1882; Anna, b. 1 Dec 1893, and Ralph, b. 25 Dec 1895. Charles was an official of the Mad River Bank in Springfield, Ohio.

2) Belle Hardman, b. 8 Aug 1867, m. Milton Stripp, a farmer and stockman in Champaign County, Ohio. Their daughter, Essie Catherine, b. 3 Jan 1891.

3) Eddie Hardman, twin to Ella, b. 25 May 1877; m. Effie Marsh of Madison County, Ohio, 28 Nov 1906. Their son William Marsh Hardman, b. 10 May 1908.

4) Ella Hardman, twin to Eddie; m. 7 Apr 1898 to P.M. Wilson. Parents of 3 sons: William W. Wilson, b. 12 Oct 1900; Paul, b. 31 Dec 1902; and Orrin, b. 12 Aug 1905.³²

e. Henderson Hardman, d. at the age of 22 years. Never married.

f. Mary Hardman, never married and d. at 22 years.

g. Charlotte Ann Hardman, d. at three weeks of age.

h. Martha Hardman, d. before 1908; m. John Sayers who moved to Iowa after her death. Mother of 2 children.

i. Wesley Hardman, m. Minnie Walk who d. in 1904. Wesley operated several³ grain elevators at Cable, Champaign County, Ohio. No issue.

6. Jacob Hardman, b. 25 Jan 1803 in Harrison Co., Va.; d. 21 Jul 1886 in South Bend, St. Joseph County, IN; m. Sarah Woodward 26 Apr 1832 in Greene County, Ohio. (No further information.)

7. Elizabeth Hardman, b. 14 Mar 1806 in Harrison County, Virginia; d. 28 Dec 1878 in Wilton, Iowa; m. John Babcock 13 Mar 1828 in Greene County, Ohio. John Babcock was also from Harrison County. His family was among those who made the Seventh Day Baptist settlement at present day Salem, W. Va. Some interesting conjecture about the Babcocks, the Hackers and the Hardmans will be found in the article "Is It Possible?" in the last issue. Jim Strong, HCPD's Secretary-Treasurer wrote the article and is working on a book about this line of the Hardman family; therefore, there will be no indepth study on this line. Hurry up, Jim!!!

8. Eliza Hardman, b. 21 Feb 1808, birthplace discussed in last issue; d. 16 Aug 1849 in Greene County, Ohio; bur. Mitman Cemetery with her parents and her first husband, James Maxon, whose family also were of the Salem, (W) Va. settlement of Seventh Day Baptist. Her second husband was Phineas Davis, still another descendant of the Salem settlement; they were m. 3 Jan 1839 in Greene County.

James Maxon/Maxson, b. 12 Dec 1806, d. 26 Mar 1837. James and Eliza were the parents of two children.

For some reason or another, Eliza was buried under the name of Maxon beside her first husband. To date the reason for this has not been discovered.

Eliza and Phineas Davis had at least one daughter, Maria Jane Davis, b. 16 Oct 1839 in Mechanicsburg, Champaign County, Ohio. Maria m. Stephen Holland Helmer, a carpenter, on 11 Mar 1860 in Greene County. Stephen b. 10 Jan 1834 in Greene County, was the s/o William and Catherine Greiner Helmer. Stephen served in the 93rd Ohio Infantry during the Civil War and spent some time as a prisoner of war during the early months of 1863. On page 91 are copies of two letters that Stephen wrote to Maria during his war service. Stephen d. 9 Apr 1893 and Maria on 7 Jun 1920. Both deaths occurred in Cleveland, Ohio. Stephen and Maria had 7 children:

a. Sallie Helmer, b. 1862, d. 17 Sept 1862, bur. Cox Cemetery on what is now Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

b. Corwin Helmer, b. ca 1862, m. Annie Boos.

c. Edward H. Helmer, d. 17 Jan 1898 at the age of 32. May have been m. to _____ Betts.

d. George Holland Helmer, b. 30 Nov 1866 in Osborne, Greene Co., Ohio, m. 1892 Kate Jane Brown, d. 8 Oct 1958 in Brandon, Florida. Bur. in North Olmsted, Ohio. One of his grandson's Frank Bracken provided the information on the Eliza Hardman branch as well as the pictures of the Peter and Sarah (Adams) (Edge) Hardman family.

e. Annie Katherine Helmer, b. 21 Sept 1873, m. George Hill 8 Apr 1896.

f. John H. Helmer, b. 8 Dec 1871, Osborn, Ohio; m. Ella J. Bieber; d. 27 Aug 1959 and bur. Riverside Cemetery, Cleveland, Ohio.

g. Annie Katherine Helmer, b. 21 Sept 1873, at Osborn, Oh; m. George Hill.

h. Carrie Helmer, b. 7 Apr 1877, d. 11 Sept 1941 in Cleveland, Ohio; m. and div. Frank E. Percy Sr.

9. Margaret Hardman, b. 10 Nov 1810 in Greene County, Ohio; d. 27 Jul 1847 Goshen Twp., Champaign Co., Ohio, and bur. Maple Grove Cemetery in Mechanicsburg, Ohio; m. Obediah Edge, brother to George Edge, her step-mother's first husband.³⁴

10. Nelson Hardman, b. 3 Jan 1813 in Greene Co., Ohio; m. 1836 H. Letty Jane _____ in Clark County, Ohio. Nelson and Letty Jane had at least 4 children:³⁵

a. Sarah E. Hardman, b. ca 1838.

The Hardman family will be continued in Volume III, Issue 3. Meanwhile, if anyone has any information about any of the families listed so far, please send it to Joy.

"Pigeon" Gap "Altona" Mountains, Ga.
Tuesday evening - May 31st 1864

My Dear Wife - your kind letter dated the 26th inst. was reced today. I was indeed glad to hear from you and as you requested an immediate answer, I shall surely comply with your request, I wrote to you a day or two ago - yet I have nothing more to write than to tell you that I am all right. So far I am certainly luckey or have been so far. And I think I will come through All Right. On the 27th, as I told you in my last letter our company lost 1 killed, 5 wounded and 2 missing - since then 1 of the missing has come up to the company - leaving only 1 missing - who I suppose is a prisoner.

Christian J. Sensenbaugh was the one killed of our Co.-- I would have written to Wm. Stiles, but I have neither time or paper. As my port folio is back in our Regimental magzand (looked like magzand but think it was wagon) and paper is very scarce indeed - Christian was struck in the head and killed instantly was killed by a musket ball. - After dark (on the 27th) we were ordered to face back to a better position. Most of our dead and some of the wounded - fell into Rebels hands. Such was the case and it could not be helped. The Rebels got the body of C. J. Sensenbough - but we got off all the wounded of our company - yet some of the other company were obliged to leave part of their wounded on the field. Tell Mr. Ort that D. C. Steele was killed. I have often heard him speak about Mr. Ort and I suppose they were well acquainted. Steele was much of a gentleman and a good soldier.

Our company miss C. J. Sensenbough more than any other one that has fallen. He was an excelent solder. Allways ready to do his duty, loved his company and Regt. he fell a brave soldier- nobly doing his duty-----

I do not think we will move from our present position for a time. Our division now holds "Pigeon" Gap which we had to fight for, and I think we will stay here until there is something done by the army on our right our position is secure. The Rebs tried to drive us from our works this morning but found out their mistake and fell back faster than they came up. Our army is in good spirits and are only anxious for "Johny Rebel" to come and try to drive us from our entrenchments. As try is all that they can do.

I have written all that I know of interest to write about. At times there is no chance of writing for two or three weeks- and if you don't hear from me every week-don't be alarmed - and think I have forgotten you - or anything has happened. For should anything happen me you would hear it.

My love and regards to Grandma Mother and all the family.
Reserve a share for yourself and Corwin.

I remain as ever your husband.
S. H. Helmer

When you write let me know all about the 110th - if you get a list of the killed and wounded by the news paper cut it out and send it to me - as I am anxious to hear from them.

S.H.H.

John Turner wishes me to tell you to inform his Mother or some of the family that he is all right.

My Dear Wife

Having a chance to send you a few lines to let you know of my where abouts. I wrote to you yesterday but as D. F. Miller of the 93rd Reg is going to Dayton- I send this along with him. I am here well and hearty expect to be in Ohio before long. I would like to hear from home but do not know whether I will be here long enough to receive an answer or not. You can write immediately and I expect I shall stay long enough to get it. Tell Uncle Bill to write.

My respects & C
From your husband

"The melancholy duty this week devolves upon us, of recording in our columns, the decease of our much respected friend and co _____, Mr. David Sleeth Carpenter. This sad event took place on Wednesday last, at _____ past 11 o'clock A.M. in the presence of the writer and two other friends. The writer had only just arrived from a _____ undertaken to see his family in Pennsylvania when he found his wo _____ partner very nearly breathing his last. In rather less than an hour, after our arrival, Mr. Carpenter expired - retaining, however, his faculties to the last and 'yielding his spirit to the God who gave it.' with decent composure and christian resignation. Although conscious that his end was fast approaching (for, in answer to our enquiry, he firmly said 'I am dying,') our deceased friend never uttered a murmur or a sigh; but exhibited a becoming share of patience and fortitude to the last. Indeed, his general deportment during the whole period of his painful and lingering sickness but more particularly during the last few weeks, has corresponded with the spirit which he manifested in his dying moments. - Meek, patient, submissive, and resigned, he quitted the present world, with the cheering hope, unequivocally expressed that, God who is All-Merciful, would extend to him the benefit of that Redemption, which the Savior graciously made for all mankind. May this hope be fully realised, on that Great Day, when every man shall be judged of according to the deeds done in the body, whether they're good or evil!

"It did not appear, from any thing we ourselves witnessed, or that we could learn from those who attended him, during his last sickness, that our departed friend was afraid to meet the Great and Awful Teacher - Death. Indeed, from the absence of everything like doubt or fear, in the trying hour of our friend's dissolution, we should incline to think, that 'he died as a Christian ought to die' and was assuredly happy.

'Happy the mortal, who has trac'd effects

To their first cause, cast fear beneath his feet,

And death and roaring Hell's voracious fires!'

"Yes! and most assuredly happy _____ the Christian, who casts all his cares upon that Great and Good Being whose care is constantly exercised, in behalf of all his sinful and dependent creatures.

"Acquainted as we have been with Mr. Carpenter, only for the short space of five or six weeks, there would be a _____ impropriety in our attempting to do justice to his gene _____ character. We may, however, be permitted to testify, as we have _____ on the best authority, that in all his relations, social as well as domestic, but particularly in the latter, Mr. Carpenter fully _____, to rank with the valuable citizen, the kind neighbor, the _____ ing friend and the good husband _____ at he was a tender father and an affectionate husband, every one acquainted with him agree in in believing: _____ was his tender and affectionate behavior repaid, by his surviving partner, who now so deeply laments the great loss which she has recently sustained.

"If the consciousness of having well performed her duty to her dying husband can assuage, as no doubt it can, the violence of her sorrow, she must _____ the most substantial inward ~~SATISFACTION~~ ^{we} venture to add this remark in justice to the merits of a living individual, whose exemplary conduct was passed under our immediate notice; and we trust that we shall be excused, for obtruding our impressions on this delicate point. It is not beyond the province of the obituary writer to glance at the merits of persons who were closely and intimately connected with the subject of his notice - and who have indeed, acted well their part towards those who have gone beforehand, to their eternal rest.

"The respect evinced towards Mr. Carpenter, was strongly marked by our fellow-citizens, at his interment on Thursday evening. His remains were attended to the grave, by a very numerous train of friends and acquaintances. The Rev. Ashby Pool preached an appropriate and effecting sermon, on the occasion, from St. John's Gospel Ch. V v. 25 -- "The hour is coming, and now is when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live."

Mr. Carpenter has been cut off early in the midst of usefulness in the 24th year of his age; and has left behind him a wife and one child.

"We shall conclude this obituary, in the striking language of that great ornament to mankind, and the typographical art - Dr. Benjamin Franklin. -- May the life of our departed friend and brother, like that of Dr. F. appear after death, "in a new and revised edition amended, corrected, and improved by the Great Author." Such is the sincere and fervent prayer of

The Swisher-Law Farm

Significance

Though the log house and the large log barn on the Swisher-Law farm were not atypical for the region at the times they were built, their survival together to the present time makes the farm historically valuable. The farm (then 147 acres) was bought in 1808 by Peter Swisher III, a son of a large local family of Pennsylvania German origin.¹ The house first occupied by the family of Peter Swisher III on their Hacker's Creek farm burned in 1831. Shortly thereafter a new, two-story log house (the nucleus of the present house) was built with the help of neighbors. That house-raising is documented in Swisher family tradition.² According to that tradition the double-pen log barn that still stands sheltered the house-raisers while they completed their work. Therefore, the barn pre-dates the 1831 house and probably post-dates the 1808 purchase of the farm.

A daughter of Peter Swisher III, Katherine, married Thomas Law. That couple bought out the other heirs of Peter Swisher in 1839 to make the Swisher-Law farm their home.³ The farm remained the property of the Law family until around 1976 when it (now 14 acres) was sold by Hugh Alonzo Law to Grant Cayton.⁴ By an arrangement made at the time of that most recent sale, Hugh Law continued to occupy his life-long home until his death in May 1978.

Description

The Swisher-Law house was expanded several times over the years towards the rear. The log house raised in 1831 (later sheathed with weatherboards) is the front section of the present dwelling. Originally that log house consisted of one relatively large room each on the lower and upper stories. Those rooms later were partitioned. A stone chimney was built to the rear of the log house with two fireplaces to serve the rooms of the log house as well as a third fireplace on the opposite side of the chimney to serve an addition that apparently was planned at the time of the house raising. That addition, likely built soon after the log house was raised, is one-and-a-half stories and frame and consists of one lower room, one upper half room, and an enclosed staircase. At later dates the dwelling was expanded further by frame additions. The Swisher-Law house today has an appearance that is at once pleasantly rambling and surprisingly homogeneous.

Another indication that the one-and-a-half story, first addition was built around 1831 is the presence in the lower room of that addition of early built-in cupboards of walnut and poplar similar to the built-in cupboard in the lower room of the log section. Two, probably identical, mantels were affixed to the fireplaces in those rooms. They were removed a number of years ago in a renovation. One mantel, unfortunately, was cut down for installation in a house in Weston. The other mantel, made of walnut probably circa 1831-60, was stored on the farm of a neighbor until acquired recently by this writer who has it in his apartment in Richmond.

The Swisher-Law farm in the early nineteenth century very likely had several log outbuildings. The barn is the sole survivor of that group. Later outbuildings include a frame wash house (demolished) and a bank cellar house consisting of a frame upper story cantilevered over a cut-stone lower story and semi-detached from the kitchen of the house (still standing).⁵

The new owner of the farm has expressed an interest in restoring the house. Provided that such a restoration would be done sensitively taking care to retain such old features as the built-in cupboards, the enclosed staircase, and the stone chimney and hearths and provided that the log barn be retained, the Swisher-Law farm could be eligible for the National Register of Historic Places.

BUSHES FORT AND JOHN BUSH
submitted by Raymond Wolfe, Jr.

The life of John Bush, who gave his name to the fort at Buckhannon, Upshur County, West Virginia. In 1781, John Bush received a certificate for 200 acres on the Buckhannon River to include his improvement made in 1773.

On the 24th of April,* John Bush (living on Freeman's Creek), having very early sent two of his children to drive up the cattle, became alarmed by their screams, and, taking down his gun, was proceeding to learn the cause of it, when he was met at the door by an Indian, who caught hold of the gun, forced it from his grasp, and shot him with it. Bush fell across the threshold, and the savage drew his knife to scalp him. Mrs. Bush (Elizabeth Hacker, d/o William and Ann Turner Dillon Hacker) ran to the assistance of her husband, and with an axe, aimed a blow at the Indian with such force that it fastened itself in his shoulder, and when he jumped bac, his exertion pulled the handle from her hand. She then drew her husband into the house and secured the door. John Bush died of his wounds.

 To find any day of the week, first look for the year of interest under the table labeled ①. Then, look directly across under the table labeled ②. Under these months are figures which refer to the corresponding figures at the head of the columns of days under the table labeled ③. Follow this column down to the date and day you want. For example: To find the day of the week for July 4, 1931, look in the table of Common Years for 1931, and then in a parallel line under July to the figure 3, which directs you to column 3 in which it will be found that July 4, 1931 was on a Saturday.
